The CREATIVE EDUCATORS INTERNATIONAL NETWORK is a volunteer project created to inspire educators who are implementing Value Creating and Education in different ways. Through deepening our own understanding and compassion, we are determined to lay the foundation for the construction of a United Nations of Education, and so open the potential of all people. CEIN has created an online teaching mandala on the Peoples Decade website (<http://www.peoplesdecade.org/do/tools>). You can use it to create your own teaching strategy and help build the global solidarity needed to evolve into a culture of peace. You will find, like us, that you teach with more joy and your students respond and find the courage to transform the world, too. Join us and contribute your own experience!
